merry blopmess !!!

preparing the ink

bubbling over with ideas

putting blops on paper

merry blop mess

This is the story of ink stone, paint brush and drawing paper. This is a story about the blops. But most of all it's a story about Christmas... wait... someone knocked over the ink bottle... who left the candles burning... and what happened to all the Christmas decorations? What a mess!!! I guess I have to give you the short version so it won't get too much out of hand here: Inkstone met water. They made liquid ink. Brush met liquid ink. They stained paper. And I, I guided brush with liquid ink on paper to give form to those crazy blops. Et voilà: A Christmas Calendar: merry blop mess!
