
Oh, the fun that blops have when they frolic around
Is too much for most, or for all I'll admit
For they frequently make quite the hullaballoo
Their attention spans shorter than goldfish can spit.
Playing king of the mountain with a large magma dragon
And searching for lost leopard spots
Are just two of the games that blops like to play
While doing much more than your average inkblot.
Their adventures might be things like living in trees
Or playing a game with a tortoise.
You should always prepare (be there or be square)
Because fun is a blops only purpose.

why blops love rhymes

forus?

Something magical
Happened to me yesterday
I received a poem
And my blops sang hurray

It was around noon
When I opened my inbox
And there was a note
SpringDragon said blopdotink rocks

Obsessed with my blops
SpringDragon decided
To put their adventures
In rhyme she confided

We were so delighted
The blops and myself
Our first piece of fanart
Please read it yourself

So this is to tell you
We thank you so much
With great appreciation
We introduce an interactive touch

Whoever writes to us
Will get a reply
The crazier the better
My blops they don't lie
